DETAILED ACTION

1. This communication is responsive to the applicant's preliminary amendment dated 06/25/2007.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 7-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

Regarding claim 7, the claimed "a mask between the sound source and said area toward which the sound source is directed, the mask having a non-uniform absorption capability yielding an acoustical wave emerging therefrom having a non-uniform amplitude distribution" was not described in the specification. The disclosure fails to disclose the claimed "mask" and its function.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

4. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

5. Claims 1-6 and 9-20 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

Claims 1-6 and 9-20 are directed to "a sound reproduction system comprising at least two sound sources for emitting acoustic sound wave with a non-uniform amplitude distribution pattern, the sound sources together producing an area remote from the respective sound sources including points non-equidistant from the at least two sound sources where amplitudes received from the at least two sound sources are approximately equal at points within the area" which does not fall into one of the enumerated four categories of patent eligible subject matter recited in 35 U.S.C. 101 (process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter).

Claims 1-6 and 9-20 are not directed toward:

1) a process (the claim subject matter is directed toward at least two sound sources for emitting acoustic sound wave with a non-uniform amplitude distribution pattern with the sound sources together producing an area remote from the respective sound sources); a statutory "process" under 35 USC 101 must (a) be tied to another statutory category (such as a manufacture or a machine), or (b) transform underlying subject matter (such as an article or material) to a different state or thing. Claims 1-6 and 9-20 neither transform underlying subject matter nor positively recite structure associated with another statutory category, and therefore do not define a statutory process;

2) a machine (there are no claim elements towards an appropriate apparatus, e.g. the elements of a device that would perform the claim steps since the claims are directed to the two sound sources for emitting acoustic sound wave with a non-uniform amplitude distribution pattern);

3) a manufacture (no claim elements pertain to an output product, e.g., claims 1-6, 9-20 claimed the main scope are at least two sound sources for emitting acoustic sound wave with a non-uniform amplitude distribution pattern);

4) a composition of matter (e.g. claim elements are toward at least two sound sources for emitting acoustic sound wave with a non-uniform amplitude distribution pattern, and not a composition of matter).

Conclusion

6. Since the metes and bounds of claims 1-20 can not be determined due to the indefiniteness of the limitations as stated in the 112th and 101 rejection above, prior art rejections can not be determined at this time.
